

Jeffrey J. Love
University College, High Street, Oxford, OX1 4BH
www.politics.ox.ac.uk/person/jeffrey-love
jeffrey.love@politics.ox.ac.uk

EDUCATION

University of Oxford, Doctor of Philosophy in International Relations, expected 2028
- With full funding from the UK Economic and Social Research Council (ESRC)

University of Oxford, Master of Philosophy in International Relations, 2025

London School of Economics and Political Science, BSc International Relations, 2023

EXPERIENCE

Sanctions Economic Analysis Division Intern, U.S. Treasury OFAC, July 2024-September 2024

- Conducted Econometric analysis on Russian taxation policy, the Oil Price Cap, the metals market, and the Kursk Incursion using Stata, Haver, Bloomberg, CEIC, and R
- Authored and contributed to memos for senior officials at OFAC and Treasury leadership
- Constructed a database using web-scraping techniques with over 30,000 persons who were added, changed, and deleted from the OFAC Specially Designated Nationals list

Research Assistant, Oxford European Studies Center Dahrendorf Program, Nov 2024-Present

- Part of the data acquisition and analysis team for the Europe in a Changing World project
- Uses web-scraping techniques to gather parliamentary debates and speeches by leaders from China, India, Turkey, Russia, and the United States

Senior Analyst, London Politica, London, September 2022-September 2023

- Led a team of 41 Research Directors, Analysts, and staff to develop the London Politica Sanctions dataset, a comprehensive mapping of all current sanctions regimes globally
- Authored and directed over 20 individual research projects on economic sanctions

Research Intern, Global Public Policy Institute (GPPi), Berlin, June-September 2022

- Examined over 100 articles on sanctions to author a comprehensive literature review
- Selected the research question and methodology for a study on targeted sanctions and illicit financial flows commissioned by the German Federal Foreign Office

Intern, U.S. Embassy Lisbon Politics and Economics Team, Lisbon, September 2021-June 2022

- Independently analyzed Portuguese news on political and economic trends to draft over 180 daily updates used by U.S. policymakers in Lisbon, Washington D.C., and elsewhere
- Authored internal documents including bios, readouts, and briefings for the Chargé d’Affaires and other embassy staff

LANGUAGES

- Portuguese: Fluent
- French: Intermediate
- Mandarin: Basic

TECHNICAL SKILLS

- Coding languages: R, Stata, Python
- Web scraping and natural language processing
- Data services: Bloomberg, Haver, BMI (Fitch)

RECENT LEADERSHIP AND COMMUNITY SERVICE

Co-Editor in Chief, Oxford Diplomatic Dispatch, Oxford, June 2024-June 2025

- Oversees a team of 7 editors to publish 2 issues per term of the Dispatch
- Solicits articles from students and professionals on various topics in diplomatic affairs
- Member of the executive committee of the Oxford Diplomatic Society 2024-2025

General Section Editor, St. Antony’s International Review, Oxford, Sep 2023-July 2024

- Oxford’s only peer-reviewed journal on international affairs
- Reviews submissions in the General Section for each of STAIR’s semi-annual editions
- Contacts and liaises with peer-reviewers and finalizes articles for publication

Vice President for Academic Affairs, St. Antony's College GCR, February 2024-Present

- Member of the executive committee of the St Antony's student leadership body
- Organizes speaker events, seminars, and conferences at St. Antony's College with speakers such as former U.S. Assistant Sec. of State Clarke Cooper and Prof. Mukoyama
- Served as Acting President of the GCR in January and February of 2025

AWARDS AND HONORS

Adam Smith Fellowship 2025-2026, GMU Mercatus Center

Fellowship, Oxford China Policy Lab 2025

Student Travel and Research grant 2025 from the Stahl Research Fund, St. Antony's College

Alastair Buchan Grant 2024, Oxford Department of Politics and International Relations

Student Travel and Research grant 2024 from the Stahl Research Fund, St. Antony's College

SELECTED CONFERENCES

Forthcoming Panel Presenter, "Why to Freeze and Not to Seize" at the International Studies Association Virtual Conference 2025, July 30th 2025

Panel Presenter, "Why Being Sanctioned Changes How You Think" at the 50th British International Studies Association Conference, June 19th 2025

Panel Presenter, "Nationalization as a Strategy to Resist Economic Sanctions" at the 66th International Studies Association Conference, March 2nd 2025

Panel Presenter, "Transforming the Polish Economy: The Evolution of FDI Inflows since Accession to the EU" at the Polish Economic Forum 2024, March 10th 2024

ACADEMIC PUBLICATIONS

Revise and Resubmit "Nationalization as a Strategy to Resist Economic Sanctions." Security Studies. Pre-print: doi.org/10.2139/ssrn.5261696

Working Paper "Why to Freeze and Not to Seize". Pre-print: dx.doi.org/10.2139/ssrn.5328129

Working Paper "Professional Interests' Grip on AI-Driven Redistribution Policy". Pre-print: doi.org/10.2139/ssrn.5328137

SELECTED NON-ACADEMIC PUBLICATIONS

"How Much Revenue Have Tariffs on China Made for America?" Oxford China Politics Lab (2025)

"Does Japan Expect Sanctions on Hamas to have Any Effect?" Oxford Politics Blog (2024)

"Why the West Should Tread Cautiously when Using Asset Freezes" Oxford Politics Blog (2023)

"Why Policymakers are Thinking About Sanctions the Wrong Way" Oxford Diplomatic Dispatch Issue 5 (2023), p. 54-57

"Russian Countersanctions: Drivers of a Pragmatic EU Foreign Policy" Oxford Political Review Issue 10 (2023), p. 12-15

"Syrian Sanctions will Hurt Civilians Most" with E. Dinçer. Comment Central (2023)

"The EU's Newest Sanctions Package Against Russia is Very Different" London Politica (2023)

"Introduction to the Ongoing Sanctions in the Middle East Dataset" London Politica (2023)